As a premier business school within a leading technological university, Nanyang Business School (NBS) is the nexus of world-class innovation, research, and business education.

INNOVATE. LEAD. TRANSFORM.

INNOVATE FOR THE FUTURE

Situated within the tech and innovation ecosystem of Nanyang Technological University, Singapore (NTU Singapore), we are uniquely placed to collaborate with industry to create and share knowledge on how cutting-edge technologies can be leveraged in every domain of business to accelerate enterprise transformation and shifts towards a smart economy. We envision and advocate the use of technology to address future business and societal challenges such as urban sustainability, resilient supply chains, and healthcare and ageing. Simply put, we equip our participants with the know-how to stay relevant and innovate for the future.

LEAD WITH IMPACT

We bring together NBS' expertise in leadership and NTU Singapore's strengths in science and technology to nurture strategic, entrepreneurial leaders to address the broader issues in business, society, and the environment. Through our programmes, we develop ethical leaders who possess a greater sense of purpose to transform the status quo, forge new paths, create value, and deliver impact wherever they are.

TRANSFORM WITH CULTURAL DEXTERITY

We are located in Singapore, at the heart of an East-West amalgamation of culture and business. Our programmes hold the best that both worlds offer. Our strong Asian heritage is complemented by our world-class faculty, as well as deep business insights grounded by research in cultural intelligence, Asian consumer psychology, and the emerging markets in ASEAN. Globally minded business leaders are imbued with the cultural dexterity to succeed in dynamic Asia and beyond.

FUTURE-FOCUSED AND INDUSTRY-DRIVEN

The Master of Science in Asset and Wealth Management (MAWM) is a practice-based, industry-driven programme designed to groom future-ready asset and wealth management professionals.

Offered by the Nanyang Technological University through its Nanyang Business School, in partnership with the Wealth Management Institute (WMI), the MAWM caters to the growing demand for highly trained professionals in the asset and wealth management sectors.

The one-year programme is aligned to the latest industry skills frameworks established by the Institute of Banking and Finance Singapore (IBF). Supported by WMI's deep industry links and domain expertise in practice-based asset and wealth management education, along with the strength of a top-ranking university, the MAWM presents a leading-edge curriculum that stays relevant to current and future industry.

1 INDUSTRY AS YOUR FACULTY

You will be taught not only by outstanding academics but also leading industry practitioners who are passionate about imparting practical knowledge. WMI has also partnered with top international financial institutions to host high-impact industry engagements and projects that are integrated with the programme, providing you an immersive experience that will deepen your learning.

2 UNIQUE WORK-STUDY FORMAT

Classes are conducted on alternate weekends, allowing you to pursue life-long learning and mastery in the programme while continuing to work full-time. The modular structure also gives you the flexibility to complete the programme within a year or spaced out over a maximum period of three years.

3 LEADING-EDGE CURRICULUM

The first programme of its kind in Singapore, the MAWM goes beyond specialising in asset management and wealth management. It is also designed to be cross-disciplinary and future-ready, incorporating data science and fintech topics, social science and psychology, as well as tapping NTU's world-renowned strengths in computing technology and mathematical sciences.

The programme also brings you to UK and US to take part in specially curated lectures by global experts at our partner universities.

EXPAND YOUR PROFESSIONAL NETWORK

The MAWM attracts a diverse and distinct cohort of participants. Build lasting networks as you study alongside professionals from banks, asset management firms, regulatory institutions, central banks, and other financial institutions from Singapore, Asia, and around the world.
